

ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

The Business Women's club of Rutland has changed name to the Rutland Community club.

A flock of 16 sea gulls were seen on Barnet pond near Wells river Sunday. This is an unusual sight, as it is rarely that the birds fly so far inland.

Oliver LaFrance, employed at a garage in Forestdale, was badly hurt Monday when a car driven hastily into the garage crushed him against a work bench. He has since been confined to the bed.

Loren D. Barnard of Bristol, 69, walked during the month of January, 135 miles, in going to and from his work and worked 27 days of 10 hours each during the month.

William Pease of Rutland is back at his home there, with a croix de guerre and a French bride, who speaks but a few words of English. Mr. Pease married her in Paris.

Rutland officials are on the trail of loafers, who stand about the store windows and expectorate on the sidewalks. A number of complaints have been filed with the police department.

Ed. McDuffee, who escaped from the insane asylum at Waterbury May 3, is still at large. It is thought likely he may try to visit his former home in Bradford, and officers have been watching for him there.

Abbott C. Moore, for many years a paper manufacturer in Bellows Falls, died there May 8 at the age of 80 years. Mr. Moore retired from business about 10 years ago.

D. D. Pratt found on the steps of his home in West Halifax one morning this week a set of springs for a heavy wagon, being the ones which were stolen from him last winter.

Fred H. Parker, well known throughout New England as a salesman for the Brown & Durell company of Boston, died at his home in Rutland Thursday of pleurisy and complications. Mr. Parker had resided in Rutland for 16 years. He was 47 years old.

George Smalley, 55, died at his home in Forestdale recently from injuries received about two weeks ago when the rear of his wagon broke and he was thrown out, the wagon box and a heavy watering trough which was in it striking on his shoulders and back.

A young woman by the name of Mrs. Eva Blaise Stone was taken from a street car in Rutland this week by the police as insane. She will probably be taken to the retreat at Brattleboro within a few days following a hearing in probate court. She was confined in a New York state institution a few years ago.

The Bellows Falls school board has engaged for a school nurse, Miss Rowena F. Goodwin, a graduate of the Mary Fletcher hospital at Burlington, who has been postgraduate work in the children's hospital at Boston. She has also had five years' experience in private nursing. The town has been without a school nurse during the past year.

E. A. Bickford was knocked down and run over by an automobile said to have been driven by Arthur Cote of Swanton in St. Albans the first of the week. Mr. Bickford was badly shaken up and one shoulder was dislocated. A boy on a motor cycle chased the car three miles before he secured the number of the license. Cote was arrested on the charge of intoxication.

The report of the director of state institutions to the board of control for the farm production at Vergennes for April shows that 22,048½ pounds of milk was produced in the month; 415½ pounds of butter made; 747 pounds of beef slaughtered, and 2,947 eggs received from the poultry yards.

The $10,000 damage case, which Frank C. French of Fair Haven brought against the Norton Hardware company of that place for the alleged selling of poison without a label, has been settled out of court. Mr. French and several members of his household narrowly escaped death from using the poison in place of something else for cooking, and Mr. French is now only just getting along, although the incident happened months ago.

The selectmen of St. Johnsbury have purchased a 22-horsepower tractor for use on the highways of the town to haul the road machine. This will save the expense of six horses and the tractor will do the work more economically and with greater speed. The selectmen recently witnessed a demonstration of road making on a hilly clay road in Lunenburg and were convinced that such a machine would be a good thing for St. Johnsbury.

Gov. Henry C. Ide, who has spent the winter in New York, expects to return to St. Johnsbury May 15, where he will spend the summer on the same day Mr. and Mrs. Shane Leslie and two children will sail from Boston on the Cunard liner Baltic to spend the summer in their country estate in Ireland. Mrs. Leslie is a daughter of Governor Ide and with her husband has spent much of her summers in St. Johnsbury since Governor Ide returned from Madrid as minister to Spain under President Taft.

An Old Friend.

All of us are well acquainted with the insect called "daddy longlegs," but not everybody knows that there is evidence to show that this strange little creature, towering high above its fellows on its thread-like stilts, is probably a more ancient inhabitant of America than any representative of the human species. Far back in tertiary times, at the very dawn of the modern world, its ancestors lived, we are told, in great numbers in that part of the continent which we call Colorado. The fossil remains of these insects show the characteristic features that mark them to-day, although new species have taken the place of the old, for even "daddy longlegs" knows something that, in his view, is perhaps a kind of civilized existence suitable to the exigencies of life in the 20th century.—Springfield Republican.

TAFT IS TO SPEAK

At Vermont State Branch of League to Enforce Peace.

Burlington, May 10.—The Vermont state branch of the League to Enforce Peace announced to-day that ex-President Taft will deliver the principal address at the state convention to be held here Wednesday, May 21, for popular ratification of the league of nations covenant. Other prominent persons who thus far have accepted invitations to speak are:

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, chairman of the woman's committee of the council of national defense and honorary president of the National American Woman Suffrage association.

Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard university.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of the Free synagogue, New York.

Herbert S. Houston, the New York publisher, formerly president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and a member of the government committee on war advertising.

Captain Thomas G. Chamberlain of the first anti-aircraft battalion, A. E. F. The announced purpose of the convention is to discuss the proposed plan for a league of nations and to organize demonstrations to show the United States Senate that the people of Vermont favor the ratification of the league covenant at the special session of Congress which will be under way at that time.

Inquiries received by the state branch of the League to Enforce Peace, to whom auspices the meeting will be held, indicate a large attendance from all parts of the state. Arrangements have been made on a strictly non-partisan basis, in the belief that the league of nations question is too big to become a party issue.

Roland E. Stevens of White River Junction, chairman of the emergency campaign committee in charge of arrangements, has established convention headquarters at the room of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce in the Standard Memorial building. Persons expecting to attend are asked to communicate with Mr. Stevens at that address.

tion in Vermont and in Michigan, was given a surprise reception at his home here May 8 in honor of her 90th birthday.

Dr. Plantz is an honorary member of the Brattleboro chapter and is the only living chapter member in Vermont of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution. She was the first woman medical practitioner in Vermont and in Michigan.

She was presented a handsome birthday cake and bouquets of sweet peas and snapdragons. Some years ago Dr. Plantz jokingly announced her candidacy for vice-president of the United States on a ticket with Admiral Dewey, but the announcement was taken seriously and she was visited by newspaper correspondents from various parts of the country. A stepson of Dr. Plantz, who won distinction as the late Gen. Lloyd Wheaton of the United States army.

More Shavings from the Plane.

About Ben Woodrow, may his tribe increase.

Is over in Paris to map out world peace, but his mandates will not be accepted in Rome.

So he'd better board ship and start for his home.

And when to the good old U. S. he has come.

He should stop, July first, legal traffic in rum.

Then care for our needs, as the chief of the nation.

And not, like great God, try to run all creation.

The Orient's natives know their affairs best.

'Tis sufficient for us to take care of the West.

We have shown the proud Kaiser we know how to fight.

But to make maps for Europe we have surely no right.

Let them settle their matters in their chosen way.

While we in this hemisphere maintain our away.
